WARREN COUNTY

Feb. 24 has been the date set for the reception of bids for the construction of Youngsville bypass. William C. Fuelhart, state assemblyman, yesterday received a letter from Robert C. Bartlett, Secretary of Highways, that stated the highway department would receive bids for the construction of all 5.89 miles of the bypass and that construction would begin at a point 133 feet west of Youngsville Borough limits. Borough police have issued their annual warning about youngsters playing on the ice formed on both the Conewango Creek and Allegheny River. Page B1.

Gail E. Cobb, chairman of the Warren Area Chamber of Commerce annual banquet, has sent out invitations for the 1967 banquet scheduled for Monday, Feb. 13, at 6:30 p.m. in the Beaty Junior High School cafeteria. Page B1.

PENNSYLVANIA

A decision on whether to release the re-nomination of Adj. Gen. Thomas R. White for confirmation was deferred yesterday for at least another day by the Senate Executive Nominations Committee. White had been accused by eight retired Pennsylvania Army National Guard officers of impairing the morale of the Guard. Chairman Richard Green said after the meeting that he wanted to hear from another principal in the dispute, Gen. Henry K. Fluck, commanding officer of the 28th Infantry Division. Page A3.

THE NATION

The administration began a new campaign for Senate approval of a consular convention with the Soviet Union. As hearings on the convention got under way in the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, J. Edgar Hoover, director of the Federal Bureau of Investigation, warned about the dangers of Soviet espionage under such an agreement. Page A3.

In a speech from the floor of the Senate, Sen. Abraham Ribicoff urged a broad reshuffling of key federal programs to strengthen the government's attack on the major problems of the nation's cities. The Connecticut Democrat, in what amounted to an indictment of much of the Great Society's approach to urban problems, proposed stronger authority for the Department of Housing and Urban Development; the transfer of major anti-poverty programs to the Office of Economic Opportunity and other agencies; and the relocation of the government's scattered manpower programs into a single agency.

Robert G. Baker, testifying at his trial, said that his "moonlighting" activities while secretary to the Democratic Senate majority in 1960 had resulted in a serious reprimand by the majority leader of the Senate, Lyndon B. Johnson. Baker said his moonlighting consisted of practicing law while an employee of the Senate. Page A8.

THE WORLD

British Prime Minister Wilson, during a speech on the eve of meetings with President DeGaulle to discuss British membership in the common market said yesterday that if European unity failed, "the fault would not lie at Britain's door." Page A3.

Troops loyal to Mao Tse-tung have taken over a center of resistance to the regime in a suburb of Peking, according to Japanese reports quoting wall posters in the Chinese capital. Page A3.

SPORTS

Dragon matmen have a score to settle tonight as they host the Corry Beavers. In an early season, non-league match, the Beavers tripped the Dragons 24-23. The Webermen have a streak of four straight wins going into this match. In the league the Dragons have won their only test. Page A6.

All five county cage teams will be in league action tonight. The Dragons travel to Corry in Section II. The Dragons are 1-2 in the loop while the Beavers are 2-1. In the UAVL Youngsville will journey to Tidioute and Sparta goes to Eisenhower. In the AML Sheffield travels to Ridgway. Page A6.

Red-hot Jack Nicklaus fired home five birdies in the final round to win by a five stroke margin in the Bing Crosby Tournament at Pebble Beach. Billy Casper was second and Arnie Palmer third as the 1967 golf season finished its first tourney. Page A6.

UCLA remained on top in the Associated Press' weekly balloting. Louisville, second most of the season, fell to fourth and North Carolina and Houston moved up. The Bruins polled all the first place votes. Page A7.

A record crowd witnessed the 16th annual Men's Club banquet last night at the Hotel Jamestown. Many of the stars from the world of sports put in an appearance. Master of ceremonies for the night was Chuck Healy of WBNV-TV, Buffalo. Page A6.

OFF-SEASON WEATHER BRINGS SPRING THOUGHTS

Secret Service Scored In Manchester's Book

(c) N.Y. Times News Service
NEW YORK — Evasive action by Secret Service agents, who seemed immobilized during "five terrible seconds," might have saved President Kennedy from the second and fatal shot fired by Lee Harvey Oswald, according to William Manchester.

In the second installment of "The Death of a President," appearing in the current issue of Look Magazine, Manchester author of the book, chronicles what he describes as the reactions of the Secret Service and the aberrant and often hysterical conduct of ranking officials in the first hour after the assassination.

Why, Manchester asks, were two middle-aged agents with slowing reflexes assigned to the posts closest to President Kennedy in the motorcade through Dallas on the day of the assassination, Nov. 22, 1963?

According to Manchester, presidential guards were not required to take standardized tests to measure reflexes. Yet such were the tension and long hours of their work that the agents regarded themselves as old at 40. And tradition dictated that the agents nearest the President should be senior men.

Thus the driver of the presidential limousine was 54 years old and the man who sat beside the driver was 48.

"They were," the author contends, "in a position to take evasive action after the first shot, but for five terrible seconds they were immobilized."

What Manchester calls the chaotic scene at Parkland Hospital in Dallas might have been avoided, he says, had the Secret Service thrown up a security screen. But the agents were leaderless and confused he asserts. Some stayed with the dead President; some apparently thought that their loyalty belonged to the new president, Lyndon B. Johnson—"and the inevitable consequence was anarchy."

Others reacted oddly, Manchester wrote, citing the case of Maj. Gen. Ted Clifton, a combat veteran, who was President Kennedy's senior military aide. General Clifton first telephoned the White House to ask that his wife and the wife of a presidential aide, Kenneth L'Donnell be reassured that their husbands were unharmed. Then he asked the White House operator to switch him to the National Security Council to inquire about the possibility of a plot against the United States.

"The general's order of priorities was staggering," Manchester commented.

His second installment also relates: —How Mrs. John F. Kennedy made anguished attempts to conceal the mortal wounds of her husband from the eyes of Secret Service agents and attendants outside Parkland Hospital, and how she struggled with a nurse who tried to bar her from the operating room.

—How President Kennedy reacted, hours before the assassination, to a black-bordered advertisement in the Dallas News accusing him of responsibility for the imprisonment, starvation and persecution of thousands of Cubans, and hinting that he had made a secret deal with the Communist Party of the United States.

—How, after reading the advertisement, the President turned to his wife and said that "we're heading into our country today." He also told her of a daydream about assassination after they had been jostled by a crowd the previous night.

"Suppose," he mused, "a man had a pistol in a briefcase." —How a young man saw Oswald about to fire from a lofty window in the Texas book depository along President Kennedy's parade route, but did not tell a nearby policeman.

Court Rules Communists Can't Be Fired as Teachers

By BARRY SCHWEID
WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court ruled yesterday New York State may not fire public school teachers—or any other civil servants—solely because they are members of the Communist party.

The 5-4 decision described the state's scheme for barring subversives from the school system as "a highly efficient terror mechanism" and a menace to academic freedom.

The ruling dealt a fatal blow to New York's entire teacher-loyalty program and the state's 1939 civil service law provision which made membership in the Communist party sufficient ground to fire—or not hire—a public employee.

They were declared unconstitutional largely as in violation of freedom of association or freedom of belief guaranteed by the First Amendment to the U.S. Constitution. Parts of the teacher-loyalty program, known as the Feinberg Law, were struck down also as unconstitutionally vague.

"Our nation," said Justice William J. Brennan Jr. for the majority, "is deeply committed to safeguarding academic freedom, which is of transcendent value to all of us and not merely to the teachers concerned."

"That freedom is therefore a special concern to the teachers concerned."

"That freedom is therefore a special concern of the First Amendment, which does not tolerate laws that cast a pall of orthodoxy over the classroom."

The four dissenters expressed dismay.

"No court," said Justice Tom C. Clark in their dissenting opinion, "has ever reached out so far to destroy so much with so little."

In their final public session before Feb. 13, the justices refused again to review baseball's immunity from antitrust law.

Decided by various votes in three Texas cases that criminal defendants are not denied a fair trial.

DELAWARE COUNTY PLAN NOVEL

By WILLIAM E. DEIBLER
HARRISBURG (AP) — School Districts sponsoring a new community college in Delaware County have adopted a financing plan that would commit each member district to pay a part of the total cost of running the school.

The plan calls for participating districts to share the cost of both building and operating costs. Each member district would pay a yearly assessment, based on the district's property market value.

This method would differ from the financial plans of the other five school district sponsored community colleges where members share building costs, but pay for operating costs only if students from the district attend the college.

Under the latter plan, districts pay about $300 a year for each student enrolled at the college. If a district has no students enrolled, it pays nothing towards the college's operating costs.

The State Board of Education, in approving the Delaware plan earlier this month, commended the sponsors for the financing plan.

Dr. Louis Bender, director of community colleges in the Department of Public Instruction, said the proposal "seems like a more democratic way" of financing community colleges.

Ho Chi Minh 'Invites' President to Hanoi For Peace Discussion

By DANA ADAMS SCHMIDT
(c) N.Y. Times News Service
LONDON — An "invitation" from President Ho Chi Minh of North Vietnam to President Johnson to visit Hanoi for peace talks was brought from the North Vietnamese capital yesterday by three western clergymen.

They were the Right Rev. Ambrose Reeves, assistant bishop of the Diocese of Chichester, and formerly of Johannesburg; the Rev. Abraham J. Muste, Presbyterian clergyman and long-time American pacifist; and Rabbi Abraham L. Feinberg of Toronto, an outspoken critic of United States policy in Vietnam.

They were to have traveled with the Rev. Martin Niemöller of West Germany, but because of delays in their transportation Niemöller completed his visit to Hanoi the day they arrived there. This was 11 days ago.

Bishop Reeves interpreted a remark of President Ho Chi Minh as "a suggestion that if only these two men (Johnson and Ho) could be brought face to face something might be done." However, Rabbi Feinberg was sure the "invitation" should not be regarded as a bid for negotiations but as "Ho's picturesque way of saying that when the United States abandoned its attempt to impose a solution by force, peace could be negotiated."

The three men had a half-hour interview with the North Vietnamese leader.

Ho's words, as recalled by Feinberg, were:

"Mr. Johnson has stated that he would talk to anyone any time, anywhere about peace. I invite Mr. Johnson to be our guest, sitting just as you are here, in the palace of the former French governor general of Indochina."

"Let Mr. Johnson come with his wife and daughters, his secretary, his doctor, his cook, but let him not come with a gun at his hip. Let him not bring his admirals and generals."

"As an old revolutionary, I pledge my honor that Mr. Johnson will have complete security."

The rabbi said Ho spoke in English. He said Ho did not mention a possible meeting on neutral ground, but did say he would not go to New York.

Elaborating on his belief that the invitation was symbolic, Feinberg said that Ho undoubtedly thought of President Johnson as a cowboy with a gun on his hip. Hence the imagery.

Recreation Day Here Tomorrow

By DON NEAL

Tomorrow will be U.S. Forest Service Recreation Day in Warren. A proclamation signed by Mayor Don Conaway earlier this month designated January 25 as such because a high-placed executive of the Forest Service will visit Warren on that day. He is Dick Costley, chief of the Recreation Division, U.S. Forest Service, Washington, D.C., a former supervisor of the Allegheny National Forest. While in Warren, Costley will inspect the fast-growing recreational facilities of the Kinzua Dam recreational complex and study plans that are being made for future development of the river valley below the dam as a supplemental project of the Forest Service.

He will also address a public meeting in the large courtroom of the court house 8 p.m. tomorrow. At this time, he will outline the changing responsibility of the Forest Service in meeting the recreational needs of an expanding population and the specific steps that are being taken to bring the Allegheny National Forest to the peak of its recreational potential.

Costley's decision to visit Warren at this time was motivated by the friendliness he feels for the community he left 11 years ago. At the invitation of The Times-Mirror and Observer, he interrupted a busy schedule to appear as the first speaker in a proposed series of programs intended to alert the community to the potentials of a recreation-based economy.

His visit has another purpose, too. In a telephone conversation, Dick expressed a desire to return to Warren to visit the many friends and neighbors he and his family still remember from the years they spent living in Warren. He is looking forward to these reunions, he said.

The opportunity to hear Dick Costley speak on a subject with which he has had a wide and varied experience is a rare opportunity for the Warren area. It is a subject of vital importance to a community entering an era of recreational affluency, mostly through the efforts of Costley's Recreational Division of the Forest Service and the staff of the Allegheny National Forest. The public is not only invited, but urged to attend the meeting at the court house tomorrow night.

LBJ Would Raise Social Security

By CARL P. LEUBSDORF

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson proposed yesterday the biggest increase in Social Security benefits in 30 years. He said it would take 1.4 million older Americans out of poverty this year.

But the President's proposals, sent to Congress in a special message, include increases in Social Security taxes that would double by 1974 the amount deducted from paychecks.

The scope of the proposed benefit increases, ranging from at least 15 per cent for all recipients to 59 per cent for the 2.5 million receiving minimum benefits, was outlined earlier in Johnson's Jan. 10 State of the Union message.

Yesterday, he spelled out the price which would be paid both by extending the amount of income on which Social Security taxes are levied and by raising the tax rate.

Currently, Social Security taxes, including medicare, amount to 4.4 per cent of income up to $6,600 a year, for an annual total of $290.40 for an individual receiving that much pay.

Johnson proposes that the taxable base be raised next year to $7,800, which would lift the maximum tax to $343.20. The tax rate, which had been scheduled to climb to 4.9 per cent in 1969, would go instead to 5 per cent, for a maximum of $390.00.

The President's message calls also for further increases in the taxable base to $9,000 in 1971 and $10,800 in 1974, and for an increase in the rate to 5.55 per cent in 1973.

Association Discusses 'Tourism'

"Tourism" and the election of three directors for the ensuing year last night highlighted action taken at the monthly meeting of the Warren County Development Association. The session was held in the Sheffield Branch of the Warren National Bank.

Under tourism the WCDA board and membership contracted Charles R. Tranter, subject to approval of the latter, as executive director of the Kinzua Dam Vacation Bureau.

This bureau of the WCDA was just recently set up and is now starting to get in motion under the chairmanship of Robert Dilks, manager of the Bell Telephone Office in Warren.

Tranter would be subject to a minimum of 16 weeks of work

Financing Community Colleges

He explained that one of the basic goals of community colleges—is to provide low cost education for students from low-income families.

"Poor school districts are usually heavily populated and can least afford to pay the $300-per-student assessment for operating costs," he said, "yet these are the districts that would most need a community college."

Under the Delaware plan, he said, the richer districts would help pay for the total cost of the education program whether they have students attending the college or not.

Bender said he hoped the Delaware proposal "would become a model for other community colleges."

The Delaware community college is the 11th such institution approved by the State Board of Education.

No site has yet been selected for the school. In their application, the sponsors told the board that they hoped to open at a temporary site, possibly a high school, and offer only eight classes initially.

However, the board said it would be advisable to find a site where day as well as night classes could be operated.

The board also pointed out that the Community College Act specifies that the college must be in a permanent headquarters within three years of the opening date.

Viet Cong Shell Minesweeper On Vital River near Saigon

By EDWIN Q. WHITE

SAIGON, South Vietnam (AP) — Viet Cong guerrillas attacked a U.S. Navy minesweeper with heavy shore fire and knocked down a support helicopter yesterday in a sharp renewal of fighting along a vital waterway south of Saigon. A U.S. spokesman said two Navy men and all four American crewmen of the helicopter were killed.

The fight broke out hours after a U.S. field commander reported in Saigon that the biggest allied operation of the war — Operation Cedar Falls — has been reasonably successful in destroying a Viet Cong complex in the Iron Triangle 20 to 30 miles north of Saigon. The Communists have held the 60-square-mile mass of jungle and scrub for 20 years and used it as a launching point for menacing attacks on Saigon itself.

Fighting dwindled elsewhere in South Vietnam and spokesmen said bad weather appeared to have curtailed air attacks on North Vietnam after six straight days of U.S. pummeling of rail lines feeding into Hanoi from Red China. Peking's New China News Agency said in a dispatch from Hanoi, however, that two U.S. planes were brought down yesterday in North Vietnam.

In Tay Ninh, U.S. officials said three "Viet Cong combat captives" were returned to their families in what the Americans described as a direct response to the release by the Communists Jan. 4 of two American civilian workers and a woman from the Philippines. The official declined to say whether the exchange was a result of an official arrangement.

Senate Defers Naming White to State Post

By VINCENT P. CAROCCI
HARRISBURG (AP) — The Senate Executive Nominations Committee yesterday deferred for at least another day a decision on whether to release the renomination of Adj. Gen. Thomas R. White for confirmation.

LaRocca Held In Man's Death In Auto Crash

CORRY — Charles LaRocca of North East, co-owner of the Hotel Corry, has been bound over to Erie County court on a charge of involuntary manslaughter, the result of a two-car crash in Greenfield Twp. in October.

The action took place before Peace Justice Charles Reichert of Harbor Creek.

LaRocca was charged after the crash claimed the life of Richard Lewkowicz of Erie. State Police at the Lawrence Park Troop Headquarters said LaRocca was southbound on Route 59 and crashed into the Lewkowicz car as the latter emerged from an intersecting road into Route 59.

Attorney Joseph Barber, assistant district attorney, said prior to the hearing before Reichert that the case involved a determination of whether LaRocca was "exercising care in his driving" at the time of the fatal crash.

Seeks Damages

Combined damages in excess of $20,000 are sought by a Franklin couple, an aftermath of a fall on a sidewalk in which the woman was injured on June 3, 1965. Beula B. Cochran and Marshall Cochran, her husband, brought the suit. Defendants are Richard C. Frame, Clark C. Frame and Frederick C. Frame, owners of the building and sidewalk.

White, who has been accused by eight retired Pennsylvania Army National Guard officers of impairing the morale of the Guard, appeared before the committee to tell his story at a closed hearing.

Chairman Richard J. Green, R - Cambria, said afterwards, however, that the committee wanted to hear "from another principal in the dispute, Gen. Henry K. Fluck, commanding officer of the 28th Infantry Division."

Green said Fluck has been invited to appear before another private committee session beginning at 10:30 a.m. today.

"It appears that there is a deep-seated policy disagreement between these two men," Green told newsmen after White's appearance.

"But we can't say at this point whether it has, in fact, impaired the morale of the National Guard," he added.

The eight former Guard officers, headed by Gen. Thomas W. Scott (Ret.) of Dunbar, have charged that White dictated six staff assignments within the 28th Division over the vehement opposition of Fluck.

Sen. Ernest P. Kline, D - Beaver, said that White "made it very clear" that he had the authority to make the questioned assignments.

The 28th is a priority unit certified by the U.S. Defense Department for reactivation in national emergencies.

Senate Democrats, meanwhile, planned to meet with David O. Maxwell, Philadelphia attorney, today on his nomination by Gov. Shafer as the new state insurance commissioner.

The Minority Democrats, who must provide the 27 senate Republicans with at least seven votes for a two-thirds confirmation, balked at the nomination until they can query Maxwell.

The closed Executive nominations hearing was the major event of the day as both the House and Senate run through routine days, awaiting Shafer's appearance before a joint session today.

Shafer is to deliver his first State of the Commonwealth message at 2 p.m., to be carried live by 13 television and more than 100 radio stations.

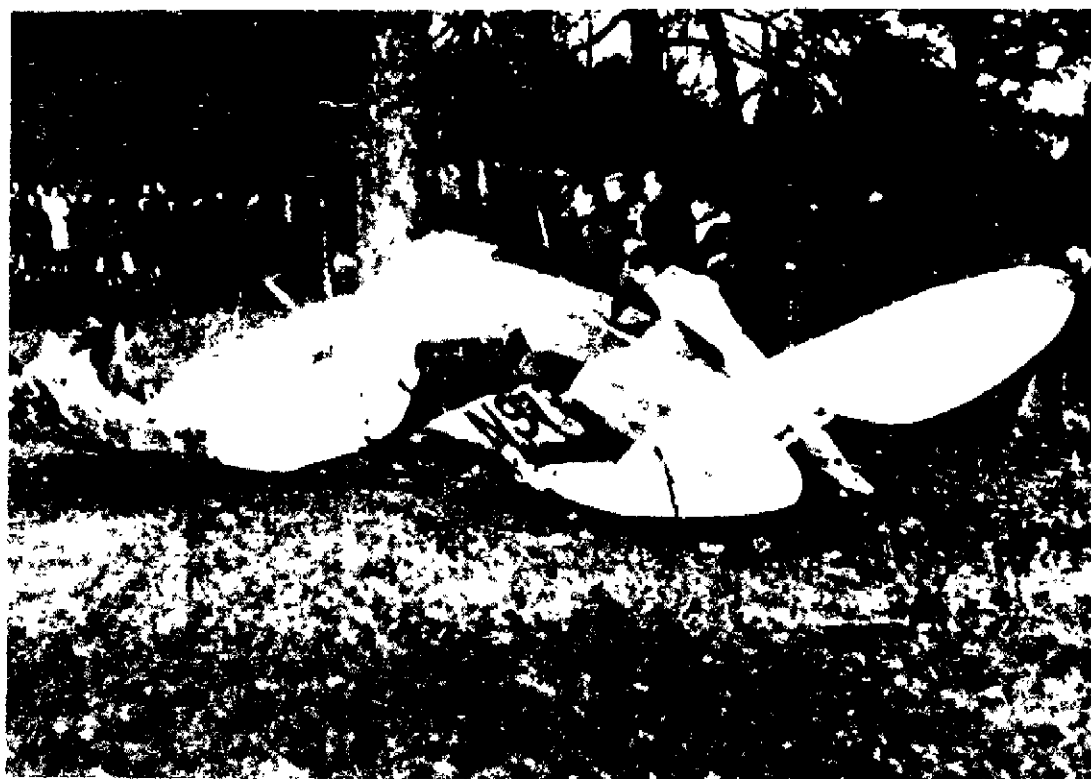

Shafer met with the Republican leadership in both houses Sunday and yesterday. It was agreed that a number of proposals he intended to present in his speech would be introduced immediately after he was finished.

In other developments: Code of ethics — House Republican leaders said their Senate colleagues yesterday agreed to support a resolution calling for a joint bipartisan committee to draft a prospective code of ethics governing the legislature. The resolution is ready for introduction, they said, but was deferred until they heard what Shafer had to say on the subject today.

Voting — Ten Senate Republicans and two Democrats sponsored a bill to lower the voting age in Pennsylvania from 21 to 18. It was referred to committee.

Constitutional Amendments — A package of seven bipartisan constitutional amendments, plus a $500 million conservation and reclamation bond issue, was released to the floor of the House. The seven amendments would write seven new articles to the constitution in less controversial areas. The bills have already passed the Senate.

Wiretapping — Eight House Republicans and one Democrat sponsored a bill which would authorize wiretapping by police. It, too, was referred to committee.

SMALL PLANE CRASH KILLS THREE

off. Dead were Joseph Hrebner, 23, and Robert Husted, 23, both of Uniontown, and the pilot, Andrew Skala, 36, of McClellandtown.

Britain Making Desperate Try to Join Common Market

By RICHARD E. MOONEY
(c) N. Y. Times News Service

STRASBOURG, France — Prime Minister Harold Wilson, on the eve of a meeting with President De Gaulle to discuss British membership in the European Common Market, said yesterday that if European unity fails "the fault will not lie at Britain's door."

Wilson, with extraordinary forcefulness, portrayed his country and revealed himself as heavily committed to the concept of a united Europe, and particularly to some of De Gaulle's special concepts.

He did, however, flatly reject the French government's hints that Britain might better settle for associate membership status, saying that it would be "half-hearted and defeatist" even to think of "loose association with something in which we ought to be fully integrated."

Wilson's forum was the assembly of the Council of Europe—a western Europe association with no power except to discuss the debate. The assembly's members are members of the various national parliaments. It was an appropriate place and a convenient time to spell out his immediate position, before moving on to Paris last night for talks with De Gaulle today and tomorrow.

When Wilson had finished speaking, Sir Alec Douglas-Home, whom Wilson displaced as prime minister, rose in the assembly amphitheater and said that there is "broad national unity" in Britain on the bid for membership. He then wished the prime minister "success in the important discussions which he is about to undertake in Paris."

It was a big occasion for the assembly, with standing and squatting room only in the press and public galleries.

TO DEFEND MAO

Red Chinese Army Reported Moving

By MARK KURAMITSU
TOKYO (AP) — Chairman Mao Tse-tung's leadership was reported yesterday to have called the army into action for the first time to stamp out growing rebellion. As a first act, soldiers were said to have seized control of Fangshan, a rebellious suburb of Peking.

But Japanese press reports said wall posters told of "reactionaries" assembling 60,000 in Manchuria to fight pro-Mao forces converging on the Manchurian industrial city of Changchun. These accounts said 40 Maoists were injured in clashes with workers and students in Changchun.

Chinese arriving in Hong Kong from Canton said Mao's opponents were collecting weapons and forming an army of peasants and workers in Kwangtung Province, following reports of the success of a similar army in neighboring Kiangsi Province.

Wall posters said clashes occurred in Fangshan over the weekend and in Tientsin, 100 miles southeast of Peking, and Paoing, 80 miles southwest of the Red Chinese capital.

Japanese correspondents said wall posters announced that Premier Chou En-lai in an address at a rally announced the calling up of the army to suppress opposition to Mao's proletarian cultural revolution, as the current purge in Red China's power struggle is called.

There was no way of checking the accuracy of this report, or of other reports of spreading opposition to Mao throughout the countryside.

China watchers in Hong Kong said, however, that the "army" supposedly being formed against Mao in the southern province of Kwangtung probably was no more than a group armed with clubs and weapons fashioned from farm and factory tools.

Youth Found Along Tracks Recovering

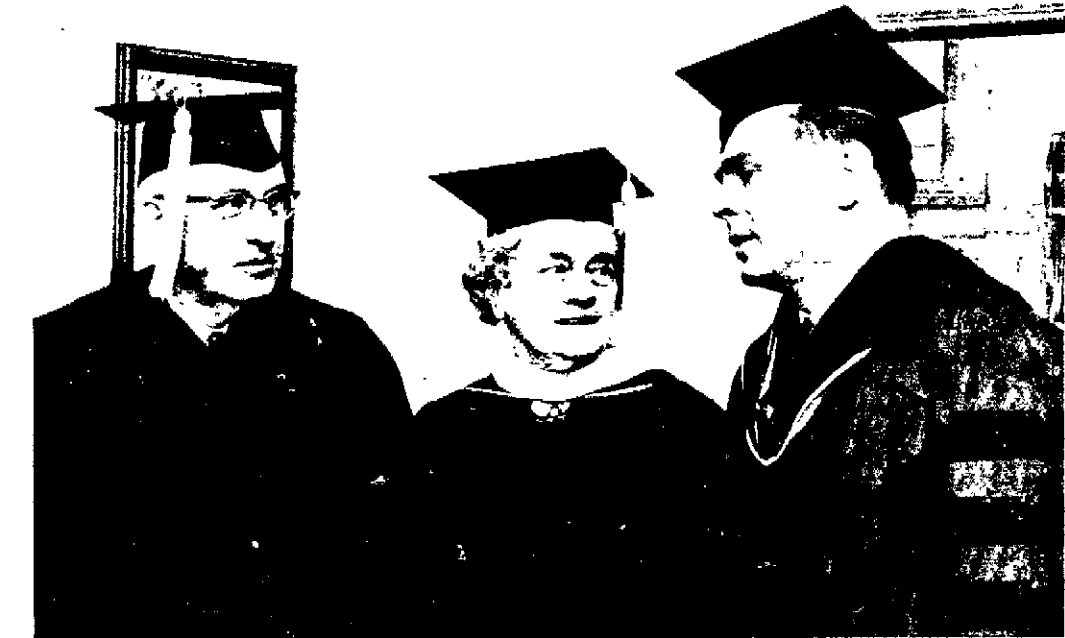

JAMESTOWN, N.Y.—A Randolph, N.Y. youth, who was found lying unconscious along the Erie-Lackawanna Railroad tracks on Nov. 23, is reportedly making good progress toward recovery from his injuries.

Robin Aucoin, 19, was unconscious in Jamestown General Hospital for several weeks after the incident in which he suffered head injuries. He later regained consciousness and has been transferred to WCA Hospital where he is undergoing physical therapy treatments.

Aucoin is presently permitted to go home weekends, leaving the hospital on Fridays and returning Monday morning. Jamestown police, who have been investigating circumstances surrounding the man's injuries, said they hope to talk to him again this week. They said a statement would probably be forthcoming soon relative to their findings in the case.

GOP Won't Stress Racism In 1968 Presidential Race

By BILL NEIKIRK
NEW ORLEANS (AP) — Republicans yesterday applauded the advice from their new group of Southern office holders to steer clear of racism and sectionalism in the 1968 presidential campaign.

Florida Gov. Claude Kirk Jr. and Sen. Howard Baker of Tennessee got enthusiastic ovations when they told the GOP National Committee and state chairmen that their party must make a broad-based appeal to the voters to win next year.

Kirk, describing how he won the Florida governor's race last November, said the words "rac-cism and sectionalism are not in my vocabulary and never will be."

Baker, first Republican ever popularly elected to the Senate from Tennessee, said "the South has emerged from the Civil War century."

If the GOP is to be successful, he said, it can't aim its campaign at any one particular group, but "our function is to see, will and sense the sentiment of the majority of the people. We have got to be for the maximum personal welfare for every individual American."

Another Southern victor in last November's election, Gov.

Winthrop Rockefeller of Arkansas, a racial moderate, attacked the cost of President Johnson's "Great Society."

Rockefeller, Baker and Kirk also said the party must stress unity in next year's campaign. "Unity is the key to success," Baker said. "We must be anxious to accommodate a wide variety of viewpoints and opinions."

Party Chairman Ray Bliss told the GOP National Committee they must actively strive to capture the big city and Negro vote from the Democrats in 1968.

The committeemen also were urged to streamline the 1968 GOP convention to avoid antics former President Dwight D. Eisenhower had said hurt the nation's image abroad.

A report, made by a special committee headed by Wisconsin's Robert L. Pierce, recommended that nominating speeches be shortened, demonstrating on behalf of candidates limited to actual delegates and alternates, and a reasonable reduction in the number of newsmen working on the floor.

Bliss told the committeemen the party must expand its organizational efforts to capture the big city and Negro vote — long key segments of Democratic party strength.

He warned the committee, holding a two-day meeting here, that the party is still in the minority and must accelerate steps to strengthen its structure despite gains in last year's congressional elections.

The Republican chairman's report urged emphasis on recruiting more college students into the party, boosting the party's image through more public relations seminars, training more research personnel and attracting more effective campaign managers.

Hoover Predicts Spying From Proposed Consulates

WASHINGTON (AP) — FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover told a Senate committee yesterday that Soviet spies operate actively from diplomatic missions. But he said Soviet consulates in this country would present no problem his men are incapable of handling.

Secretary of State Dean Rusk agreed the FBI "can cope with a few more" Communist diplomatic missions even if espionage agents are assigned to a consulate that might be opened in the United States. He said no more than 10 to 15 persons would be involved.

More to the point, Rusk told the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, a long-pending consular treaty should be approved because it would provide new protection for Americans now traveling in the Soviet Union at the rate of 18,000 a year.

Specifically, he said, added U.S. consular representation in the Soviet Union would "permit the United States promptly to protect and assist its citizens when they are arrested and detained in the Soviet Union."

"I do not see how this consular convention can add significantly to the risk of espionage," Rusk testified.

And Sen. Claiborne Pell, D-R.I., said espionage is a two-way street and the Central Intelligence Agency's work might be made easier by added consular representation in the Soviet Union.

Hoover insisted he is not trying to block Senate approval of the treaty that would open the way for an exchange of consulates by the United States and the Soviet Union.

Personnel of the proposed consulates would have diplomatic immunity from arrest. But Rusk said both countries would have the right to reject any person, or restrict the number of employees, assigned to consulates within its boundaries.

Today's Housing Problems

Local officials next month will have the opportunity to learn about available federal aid programs, training of housing inspectors, resources in the field of housing, housing programs and assistance that can be obtained from the state Department of Health, local housing problems and conditions, and housing code enforcement policies and procedures.

We were interviewed by a state Health Department worker recently on what we thought were some of the health problems in this community. At that time we especially cited conditions existing in low rent- and sometimes not so low- housing facilities here. Apparently housing problems are developing in the entire northwestern area and it is good to see that a state department is attempting to do something about it.

The February meeting will give local communities an opportunity to discuss their housing problems with representatives of the Department of Housing and Urban Development, the U.S. Public Health Service and the state Department of Health.

A national effort is already in progress to remedy the increasing housing problems that are today occurring throughout the country. When a building or home is 30 years old, it starts deteriorating rapidly unless preventive maintenance is

JOSEPH ALSOP

Coleman and Plowden

WASHINGTON — Every so often an event of the utmost long-range importance causes hardly as much as a contemporary ripple. Such an event was the publication of a congressionally required report on equality of educational opportunity by a high-powered committee headed by Prof. James S. Coleman of Johns Hopkins.

Alsop

The Coleman Report, as it is generally known, has already done profound though still invisible harm. "Now we know the schools are not the cure," is the resulting watchword among many of the concerned people who have the sense to see that the urban problem, the Negro problem and the poverty problem are all, in this fat, affluent country, reaching a stage close to terminal cancer.

You hear the watchword being solemnly repeated, for example, by staff intellectuals serving both President Johnson and Sen. Robert F. Kennedy. To be sure, Sen. Kennedy's staff intellectuals tend to resemble exceptionally brilliant leaders of the Menshevik Youth League, while President Johnson's tend to be a bit tired. But they count.

More important still are such professional educators' responses as an essay in the authoritative review, Science, by Robert C. Nichols of the National Merit Scholarship Foundation. Dr. Nichols alleges the report means that "the effects of variations in school quality on student achievement are minimal."

This he calls "revolutionary," and he adds that the Coleman Report's findings "stand like a spear pointed at the cherished American belief that equality of educational opportunity will increase the equality of intellectual achievement."

MASON DENISON

'Apprehension' On The Hill

HARRISBURG — The single word "apprehension" perhaps best describes the atmosphere prevailing on Capitol Hill these days.

This air of apprehension is generated by the simple expectancy—a somewhat fearful expectancy—of what will be found when newly-bussed into office Governor Raymond Philip Shafer presents his budgetary offering a month or so hence.

That it will be another record-breaking booming budget, few either in or out of administration circles deny. That it will be another billion-dollar-plus affair none will deny—and this refers incidentally, only to the General Fund Budget.

Much of Pennsylvania's new budget unquestionably will be keyed to the findings of the tax policy advisory committee which earlier in the month made its formal and official debut following appointment by Mr. Shafer.

There is this much that appears certain: Whatever the former senator-turned lieutenant governor has to offer ultimately along the lines of a fiscal blueprint for the Keystone State may be a tough one to battle through the thinly held Republican Administration majority in the Senate and the more caustic and belligerent Republican majority in the House.

On one score the budget of necessity will be high—higher than any before in the history of the Commonwealth. Mandated increases—uppages spelled out by previous administrations and preceding legislatures—committing this and future administrations to increased spending, cannot be ignored by Mr. Shafer in the preparation of his fiscal egg.

On this score Raymond Philip Shafer has no choice. What legislative leaders—and the various and sundry departments cluttering Capitol Hill—will be watching closely and the prime reason for the air of "apprehension" is what will happen on the non-mandated expense front.

Anti-administration legislative leaders with their close-to-control grip in both House and Senate plan to watch this item on "non-mandated spending" with the tenacity of fiscal bulldogs.

As in the past 1966 session their goal with an administration of the opposite political faith is assumption of the role of financial watchdog and the creation of another "hold-the-spendings" record—if they can do it.

In the third and most important place, the ghettos being what they have so logically become, the only lever that can be used to change them radically is the lever of the schools. In the next generation lies the main hope. On this point McKissick broadly points the way.

In England, meanwhile, Lady Plowden, the wise wife of the former head of the British Atomic Energy Commission, has more precisely pointed the way. She was the chairman of an eminent committee that has done a brilliant report on English school problems.

According to one summary, the Plowden report "identifies whole urban areas where the (social) structure is falling apart . . . (Here, the report concludes firmly) the children . . . need NOT EQUALITY BUT A STRONG PREFERENCE if they are to be given a fair start in life."

In other words, the Plowden Report says the schools ARE the cure for the English center city problems that are so like our own. But they are the cure only if they are unequal, in the sense of being far, far better and, therefore, far, far more costly schools when their pupils come from severely deprived environments. The seeming contradiction between the Coleman and Plowden reports remains to be examined.

Everyone Is Making A Record

WASHINGTON — The news that Adam Clayton Powell is putting out a record titled "Keep the Faith, Baby," and will use the royalties to pay off a libel judgment in New York City, is a great shot in the arm for the long-playing disk business.

Buchwald

I talked to the head of one of the largest record companies the other day and he was desperate to find an idea for a talk record.

"Sen. Dirksen started the whole thing," he said. "And now with Powell following up with the record we've got to come up with something to compete with them."

"Do you have any ideas?" "We've been working on some dandies. We're trying to persuade J. Edgar Hoover to put out a record titled 'Voices of Famous People I Have Bugged.' We'd like to use actual conversations that the FBI has picked up over the years."

"It sounds great. Has Hoover showed any interest?" "He claims Bobby Kennedy has all the tapes."

"Who else have you contacted about making a record?"

"Well, we've got one idea for a record called 'Sing Along With Joe Valachi.' The idea would be to use the tapes of Valachi singing to the police with a choir in the background."

"You could subtitle it 'Nongallant Men.' I suggested. 'I've also been on the phone to Alabama trying to get Lurleen Wallace to make a record for us.'"

"What did you have in mind for her?"

"We thought of something like 'Lurleen Plays Music to Segregate By' with her husband George conducting the Alabama State Police Symphony Orchestra."

"It would sell better than 'Dixie.'"

"I'd also like to get Gov. Lester Maddox to make an LP titled 'Themes and Variations on Making Fried Chicken.'"

"How about Ronald Reagan reading his budget deficit on a long playing record?" I suggested.

"We're hoping to get him to do one titled 'Ronnie Reagan Swings at Berkeley.' I think he works better before a live audience."

"It should be a riot," I said. "We hope so. You know there's so much to be done in this field. We want to do a record called 'Bob McNamara and His Pentagon Brass' and another one titled 'Dean Rusk Reads Humorous Highlights From the Fulbright Hearings.'"

"I'd buy that one." "One of our people has suggested we make one called 'Sex and the Supreme Court.' Each Supreme Court justice could read a passage from his favorite book that has been condemned as pornographic because it appeals to prurient interests."

"The cover alone would sell it," I said excitedly. "Has anyone talked to Bobby Baker?"

"Someone is over at the courthouse right now. We want to title it 'Bobby Baker Pleads Innocent' and we've promised if he did it we'd back him up with 200 violins."

"What about George Hamilton?" "I've got a check in my drawer right now. As soon as he signs the contract, it's his."

"What title would you put on it?"

"Praise the Lord and Pass the Ammunition."

'IGNORE HIM, HERR KIESINGER—IT'S JUST SOME BUM WHO SAVED MY LIFE ONCE!'

DREW PEARSON

On Auto Safety Standards

Last week's Jamaica, N. Y., fire caused by a leaking gas line highlights a series of columns written by Drew Pearson calling attention to the danger of gas pipelines. Beginning June 16, 1965, Pearson reported on pipeline explosions and called attention to weakening pipe due to corrosion plus failure by the Federal Power Commission to adopt a national policy on pipeline inspection. Several columns have been published since.

WASHINGTON — January 31, one week from today, is D-Day for auto safety. This is the day when the U. S. government will set 23 safety standards which Detroit manufacturers must follow on their 1968 models.

This is the day which climaxes the long Congressional hearings on auto safety which featured the shadowing of auto safety crusader Ralph Nader by General Motors' detectives.

The man who will set the manufacturing safety standards on Jan. 31 is Dr. William Haddon, head of the new Auto Safety Agency, a sincere, harassed bureaucrat.

Dr. Haddon, a graduate of MIT, the Harvard Medical School and the New York State Public Health Service, is being subjected to more pressure than almost any other bureaucrat in Washington. The pressure is coming from Detroit.

The motor moguls are still so furious over the way Congress brought them under the law last year that their engineers and lawyers are fighting any standards which radically change auto structure. As part of this tactic they submitted hundreds of pages to Haddon's agency on Jan. 3, commenting on proposed safety standards with such adjectives as "useless," "inadvisable," "illegal," "impossible to meet." Their chief plea is that they need more time. Chrysler says that it needs over 70 weeks to meet the simple brake-hose standards proposed by Washington. Yet last year it took Chrysler only six months to develop its collapsible steering column for mass production. And a steering column is much more complicated than a brake-hose.

Last week, incidentally, Chrysler called back 18,124 of its 1967 models in a search for possible brake and electrical errors. A total of nearly 500,000 cars have been called back by Chrysler and General Motors since Jan. 1 because of possible defects.

Despite this, the pressure is on harassed Dr. Haddon to water down his safety standards to be issued January 31. Here is the roll call of the pressure boys:

WILL SCOTT, crisp, incisive head of Ford's auto safety division.

LOUIS LUNDSTROM, slow-sell, easygoing head of GM's auto safety division.

ROY HAEUSLER of Chrysler, an old friend and fellow MIT alumnus of Dr. Haddon's.

Check These Points First

(In collaboration with the Research Institute of America)

A basic way to save money on your 1966 income tax is to avoid errors which could lead to questioning of your entire return. Here are the most common filing errors:

— Failure to attach all the Forms W-2 reporting the pay you and your wife received from your employers.

— Incompletely reporting your address or incorrectly listing your Social Security numbers.

— Not checking the correct block for your filing status (single, married filing joint return, etc.).

— Incorrectly checking the blocks for your personal exemptions or incorrectly listing your dependents.

— Incompletely listing your itemized deductions.

— Listing income, deductions or other tax items on the wrong lines.

— Failing to sign your return. A question I'm frequently asked is how long you should keep your returns after you prepare them. There is no precise answer since if the Treasury claims fraud, it can go back to question your returns for all years without limitation. If it insists you left out more than 25 per cent of your gross income, it can go back six years. But an intriguing point is that as of a short time ago, the Treasury was keeping individual returns Forms 1040 only from 1959 on, and Form 1040A's only from 1960 on. That's a practical guide for you.

If you, like millions of us, ended 1966 with a net capital loss on your stock transactions, don't forget the fact that you can claim up to $1,000 of your net loss as a deduction against your salary, dividend, interest, etc., income. This is so even though you use the standard deduction instead of itemizing your personal deductions. Show the "red" figure on line 5, Part II, page 2, of Form 1040 and subtract the loss from your other income. If you have no income in Part II, or your loss exceeds your income, carry the unused loss over to line 6, page 1. The loss on line 6 is to be subtracted from any amounts on line 5.

If you must file an estimated tax declaration for 1967, note that to avoid penalty for underpayment of estimated tax, you must pay at least 80 per cent of your actual tax in 1967 (by estimated tax payments plus withholding) rather than the 70 per cent minimum which has prevailed up to now. The old safety zones still apply, though, so to be safe, make your 1967 tax estimate at least equal to your actual 1966 tax. This will guarantee you against a penalty regardless of how large your actual 1967 tax turns out.

As for your chance of being audited, latest Treasury statistics indicate it's 1 out of 121 for a field audit at your place of business and 1 out of 26 for an office audit. These are merely averages, however. Your chance of being audited will be higher if your income is large or your return shows some extraordinary items of deduction or income, or your deductions appear out of line with the average deductions of others in your income bracket.

When you mail your return, consider using registered or certified mail to have absolute proof you mailed it on time. While there is no problem with the vast majority of returns, if yours is one of the few that goes astray, the resulting trouble and expense can be significant.

It can be cheap "insurance" to send it via registered or certified mail with a return receipt requested, for the postmark on the receipt will be proof you filed on time. And don't mail your return so late in the day that it is not stamped with the last accepted postmark date.

War Rules Change

WASHINGTON — Ever since the new kind of war started they change the rules every day here. It is nerve-wracking. No one is safe anymore. Some time ago a general went berserk and loped through the town bawling, "Let's nuke 'em and get it over with!"

He was taken away and talked to about the rules. That was when we learned that it was against the rules to say, "Let's get it over with!" The old men said it was a bad sign. They had seen many years and always the people had been allowed to cry, "Let's get it over with!" Who wanted to be involved in something that could not be gotten over with, they wondered, especially if it was a war?

After that some of the men went about saying, "If we can't get it over with, let's quit." These men almost immediately found themselves under heavy harassment. Many had Nervous Nellie skirts delivered anonymously to their homes in the night. Wolves leaped upon them over coacktails.

Those who had discreetly kept quiet, having sensibly decided to be low until the rules were announced, read the humiliation of the let's-quit faction as a subtle announcement by the leader that the traditional rules of war had at last been invoked.

And so they filed through the town carrying flambeaux and shrouds and chanting, "Hate for love of the state!" and "Suspension reason for the duration!" just as their fathers and grandfathers had always done in the old wars that still entertained everybody on television.

That was a good moment. We all sensed that it was what war should really be like, and we were shaken when agents of the secretariat of rules arrested three of our comrades for poisoning a draft dodger's well.

Naturally, there was confusion and for a long period the townspeople thought it wasteful to pretend that there was no war, despite daily announcements of military victories from the ministry of escalation. At length we were visited by tribunes of the leader.

"This is not a war that either side can win," they said. At this, most of the crowd that had assembled began to disperse, for nothing bores our people so much as a tie ball game unless it be a drawn fight. Thus, few of the people heard the tribune explain that the leader was determined to practice war with restraint.

"We have given the world a new war form," they declared. "It is civilized war. In civilized war, reason must prevail over emotion. Dissent must not be suppressed. Propaganda must not be allowed to taint truth. In this way we shall be the first national in history to deliberately fight its way to a tie war."

That night the tribunes' statement was discussed until far after midnight in the public bar. "The way I see it," said an old man, "the rules for this kind of war require us to demand reason and truth, and then to dissent if we don't get it. That way we'll help the leader avoid winning the war."

The next day many persons patriotically gave up a day's work to rally outside the secretariat of explanations, and a deputization was sent in to demand that the secretary tell us the truth about the war. "We fight, quite simply, to avoid another Munich," he explained.

Many saw the reason and truth of his explanation but Ortho, the town malcontent, went from corner to corner arguing that the secretary was guilty of unreason if not outright propaganda, and thereafter dissented loudly wherever he went.

Naturally, it was disconcerting to all of us who had listened respectfully to Ortho when his name was left off the invitation list for the leader's masked fete. The night of the ball, word was quietly passed that we had all misunderstood the rules.

It was now against the rules, they said, to impute reason to either the leader or his men, since such conduct encouraged the enemy to fight harder. And now the town is deeply worried about old Brundy. Just last week he was sent to the enemy capital to report on the harmlessness of our bombing there.

Immediately after he left there was another rule change. "Anyone who disagrees with the ministry of escalation's reports on the harmlessness of our bombing is breaking the rules by reporting the wrong side's propaganda," the new rule states.

It is all so baffling and they say it may take years yet to fight the war through to a tie.

Griffith Scores Unanimous Verdict

By JACK HANDBY
Associated Press Sports Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — Emile Griffith saved his world middleweight title by the tightest of margins last night by taking a unanimous decision over Joey Archer in a return 15-round match at Madison Square Garden.

The 152-pound busybody from the Virgin Islands repeated his July 13, 1966, triumph over the slick left jab artist from New York before a crowd of 14,838 paying $127,119.

Referee Arthur Mercante and Judge Johnny Dran scored it the same 8-6-1 in favor of Griffith. Judge Joe Eppy saw it 8-7 for the defending champion.

Griffith apparently pulled it out by winning the 13th and 14th on all three official cards in the hard-fought battle that went right down to the wire. The AP card had Archer an 8-6-1 winner.

There were no knockdowns in the bitterly contested fight although Archer's right knee dropped toward the canvas in the second from a hard right hand by Griffith. There was no count and no knockdown.

The pro-Archer crowd chanted, "Let's go, Joey" and serenaded Griffith with, "good bye, Emile" during the late rounds. Still there was no great uproar at the decision.

Archer, who had to sweat off 1 1/4 pounds yesterday afternoon after missing the 160-pound weight limit at the noon weighing, did a fine job of masterful boxing although Griffith stalked him all night, looking for a chance to throw those crippling left hooks to the body.

The champ, an 8-5 favorite as they climbed into the ring, raised an egg under Joey's right eye as early as the second round. Archer also had a scrape on the bridge of the nose through the last half of the fight. The eye never opened up despite Griffith's constant attempts.

The bout, twice postponed because of illness and injuries to the two boxers, attracted more people than their first match on a 104-degree night in July.

Griffith had been guaranteed $75,000 and 45 per cent of the gate and the television receipts. Archer got 15 per cent of everything but no guarantee.

Although the bout was carried on a special hookup of television stations to 63 cities, it was blacked out in the New York area.

A quick ringside poll of writers covering the bout showed four voting for Archer and three for Griffith.

It was that kind of a fight, a razor thin margin either way. There was no clear cut winner at any stage. What looked like an Archer bout in the first round quickly turned to Griffith in the next two sessions.

Many ringside watchers had it all even in the middle of the fight. They gave Griffith a big edge in the wild eighth when he zoomed in on his target with solid body blows.

Just when it seemed that Griffith had gained control and might even be on his way to a knockout, Archer would start jabbing and moving, throwing quick flurries and regain the edge.

Joey, a saloon keeper in Upper Manhattan, was the classic boxer type, fencing with his left, dropping in a straight right and moving in and out.

Griffith was the bull, rushing headlong with right hand leads and thumping hooks to the head and body.

It was the 52nd win for Griffith in 59 fights. Archer suffered his fourth defeat in 50 starts.

Both are 28 and were born within eight days of one another, Emile in the Virgin Islands and Joey in New York City.

Referee Mercante warned Griffith for a low blow in the third and cautioned him again in the ninth for holding around the neck and hitting.

Gil Clancy, Griffith's co-manager, kept telling the champ to "forget the Mary Ann" (a right hand lead) and keep throwing that hook to the body.

Emile didn't always follow the advice.

Home St. Wins 2nd Half Game

Home Street opened the second half of the Gray League with a 37-5 win over McClintock at the YMCA yesterday.

Dave Mervine was high for the winners with 11. Don Trubie had 10 and Glenn Belleau tallied nine.

B. English and J. Gibeny had two apiece for McClintock.

The score by quarters is as follows:

Home Street 8 14 7—37
McClintock 0 2 3 0—5

76ers Roll on in NBA, Hold Off Hawks 112-105

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP) — The Philadelphia 76ers, trailing part of the way, scored the last eight points and staved off a rally by the St. Louis Hawks for a 112-105 National Basketball Association victory last night.

The Hawks had rallied from a 12-point deficit at 91-79 with 10 minutes remaining and knotted the count at 100-all with 3:42 left.

From that point the lead changed hands six times as Len Wilkens of the Hawks hit a free throw and Rod Thorn hit two jumpers.

The Philadelphia scoring was done by Billy Cunningham with two jumpers and Chet Walker with a lay-up with a minute left.

TMO Cagers Outscore Gold Star

The Warren Times Mirror and Observer cagers evened their record at 4-4 in the Taft Recreation League of Jamestown last night by downing Gold Star by a 78-34 score.

The TMO scored 42 points in the first half with Jack Karkosky scoring 10 of his 12 points. Ron Isackson hit nine of his 13 points in the opening half. Jim McElrath hit nine of his 17 points.

Bob Winterburn, high in the game with 19, scored 12 in the second half. Dick Koebley was the only other local in double figures. He tallied 11 points.

The TMO outscored Gold Star 36-33 in the second half. Dave Kingsley led the losers with 16 points, 12 of them in the second half. Renny Nelson was the only other member of the team in double figures. He scored 11 points.

The TMO made 31 field goals and 13 of 24 from the clarity line. Gold Star cashed in on 14 fielders and six of 19 from the 15-foot stripe.

On the 13th and 14th, Jack needed only putts of four and three for birdies.

He thrilled the chilled gallery and national television audience with a 55-footer at the 16th which wrapped up the $16,000 first prize and then knocked in a 17-footer at the 17th.

Few believed Nicklaus could win by five strokes when he was tied with Palmer and only one ahead of Casper through 12 holes. But the birdie binge added a 31 for the final nine to his opening 37.

Casper bogeyed the 12th when he drove into woods and came back short. He missed a six-foot putt and took another one-over-par at the 15th although an 18-footer dropped at the 13th for a birdie.

CORRY OWNS EARLY SEASON WIN

Matmen Have Score to Settle

Warren's wrestlers host Corry tonight in what can only be called a "revenge" match for the Dragons.

Earlier in the season, the Beavers upset the local grapplers, 24-23 in a cliffhanger on the Corry mats.

The Webermen, however, have come on to win the last four dual matches and the Beavers are the next hurdle the Dragons have to clear to remain in the running for the Section II crown.

Corry, on the other hand, has had rough sledding since tripping Warren, losing to Oil City, Titusville and Saegertown. A 36-13 loss to the latter was Coach Bob Benson's low point of the season.

There will be one important change in the Corry lineup tonight. Missing from the Beaver team that dropped the Dragons is Dick Harrington, The Beavers' ace 133-pounder under-Upperman will represent the Beavers at 180.

The remainder of the Corry lineup will be the same as the earlier match: Jeff Jackson at 95, Larry Dingfelder at 103, Jim Seitz at 112, Larry Harrington at 120, Dean Fralick at 127, Rick Jaquith at 145, Gene McChesney at 165 and Joe Hutchinson at heavyweight.

Dragon coach Mike Weber will make only one change in the lineup that defeated Titusville last Friday. Steve Kaiser and Jim Mead will switch weights. Mead will be at 127 tonight, with Kaiser at 133.

Tonight's match is a big one for the Dragons. The loss to the Beavers in the first meeting grates on the memory of the local grapplers and they'd like to redeem a "loss of face."

Now 2-0 in conference competition, Warren must win tonight and then take Oil City on Friday to have a shot at unseating Meadville in a crucial Section II match next week.

The loss to the Beavers at Corry doesn't figure in the loop standings. The match tonight counts.

The varsity matches will start at 8 p.m., with the jayvees slated for 6:30 and the Beary Blues and Whites competing at 5:30.

The probable varsity lineups will be as listed below.

WARREN	CORRY
Cataldo 95	Jackson
Da. Sorensen 103	Dingfelder
Waxman 112	Seitz
Do. Sorensen 120	Harrington
Mead 127	Fralick
Kaiser 133	Higley

Maines 145	Jaquith
Greenwood 154	Bogert
Thompson 165	McChesney
Pusateri 180	Upperman

All County Squads In League Battles

Even though the Warren Dragons have seemingly found the right combination of players they will have their hands full at Corry tonight in a Section II battle.

Other games finds one intra-county struggle in the Upper Allegheny Valley League with Youngsville at Tidioute. Sparta will be at Elsenhower in the UAVL. In the Allegheny Mountain League Sheffield will be at Ridgway.

The Beavers sport a 2-1 mark in league play while the Dragons posted their first win in the loop last Friday compared to a pair of losses.

Corry will be starting a tall team with Carl Hillstrom and Fred Schwab both standing in the neighborhood of 6-4. Other starters will be Pete McLaughlin and Duane Edwards, a pair of high-scorers. Fifth man will be either Gary Blynt, Jack Hammond or Tom Kander.

The Beavers own wins over Oil City, in overtime, and Titusville. They have been beaten by Franklin.

Coach Joe Shantz's team is fresh from a 62-57 win over Titusville. The Dragon mentor seems to have found a workable combination in Scott and Bob Hunter, Randy Jones, Steve Tundel and Dan O'Neil.

Though they lost the first time they started to Meadville they played a sharp game. This group beat Titusville though Jones and Tundel were not around at the finish.

The Dragons will have to cope with about the same situation, as far as height is concerned, as they did with Titusville.

Youngsville, 3-1 in the UAVL, will travel to Tidioute, 0-3. The Eagles have been beaten by league-leading Sparta by three points.

Starting for the Eagles will be the usual first five of Milt Johnson, Gary Carter, Bob Chisholm, Ron Knapp and Denney Walton.

Answering the opening buzzer for the Bulldogs will be Harry Hopkins, Bob Bosko, Bill Brown, Ed Ziegler and Scott McKay.

Coach Jim Bodamer of Tidioute still claims that he won't finish last in the league and he would like nothing better than to knock off the flock of high-flying Eagles.

Coach Paul Siegel of the Eagles should have a healthy team to serve him again. He went through the last game with Knapp and Carter at less than full strength.

League-leading Sparta will travel to Elsenhower. The Spartans currently hold a 4-0 mark while the Knights are 1-3.

The high-scoring Spartans will use a starting lineup composed of Hal Tubbs, Bob Tryor, Elden Miller, Brent Allen and Don Minnick. They are averaging over 90 points a game in league action.

The Knights' starting five will be made up of Bob Burlingame, Barton Lohnes, Dave Van Cise, Gary Fry and Bill McFarland, Bruce Jack.

Other game in the county will have Sheffield at Ridgway. The Wolverines came from behind to trip Johnsonburg in their last league outing. Ridgway has been battling, but not winning as they are 0-2 in the loop.

Sheffield starters will be Wayne Swanson, Robbie Hart, Jeff Scallies, Ray Morrison and either Mark McGuire or Mike Steffan.

Elker starters will be Ron Zamerowski, Sam Heatherdale, Doug Giantz, Dan Pierce and Bruce Jack.

Nicklaus Birdies Way To Win Bing Crosby Tourney

Casper, who led the money winners in 1966 with $121,944, collected $9,600 for second place. Palmer drew $6,000.

Mike Souchak, whose 228 at the end of 54 holes didn't qualify him among individual pros, teamed with his brother Frank of Oakmont, Pa., for the pro-amateur team honors with a best ball total of 259. Big Mike collected $2,700 for that effort.

Protecting himself from the Pacific wind with a jacket over his shoulders between shots, Nicklaus won this tournament on the same par 36-36 course where he captured the National Amateur title in 1961 before turning pro.

Nicklaus' charge spoiled what at one time appeared a rematch of last summer's National Open when Palmer and Casper met in playoffs with the latter winning by four strokes.

Three golfers tied for fourth place at 293 — Bill Parker with 76 in the finals, Jack Burke Jr. with 74 and Bob Rosburg with 74.

A look at the Dragon statistic sheet reveals the reasons for the below .500 season so far.

The statistics below are complete through the Meadville game. They are compiled by the Dragon team managers and statisticians.

Most of the Dragon attack, offensively and defensively has been centered around 6-3 center, and team captain, Scott Hunter. Among the regulars, he has the most field goals, most attempted and highest percentage. He also leads from the foul line in the same categories. Hunter is also the leading rebounder, both off the offensive and defensive boards.

Hunter is hitting 45 per cent of his field goal attempts and 71 per cent from the foul line.

Hunter is the only Dragon with more than 100 rebounds. He has 161. Next on the team is Bob Hunter with only 50. Of Scott's rebounds 70 have been off the offensive boards and 91 off the defensive boards.

Actually Steve Tundel has a better shooting percentage than Scott Hunter, but he has shot only 21 times. He has made 14 for a 65 per cent. Dan Krumm equaled Scott Hunter's per cent at the foul line by sinking 11 of 14 for 71 per cent.

Scott Hunter also holds leads in a couple of unenviable categories. He has had more violations called against him and he has fumbled more passes than any one else on the team.

Danny O'Neil and Steve Tundel have thrown 17 and 16 bad passes respectively.

O'Neil leads the Dragons in assists with 13. Bob Hunter and Tundel have each given aid in eight baskets.

As a team the Dragons have hit on 279 of 878 field goal attempts for an average of 32 per cent, less than average. From the foul line they have hit a commendable 62 per cent with 178 of 288.

The Dragons have been out-rebounded by the opposition, 474 to 407. The opponents have made 317 of 721 from the field for a 44 per cent. From the 15-foot mark the opposition has made 190 of 354 for a 54 per cent.

Taber Show

Well, that time of year has rolled around again when the Warren Field and Stream Club presents its annual Wally Taber show at the Warren Area High School tomorrow night at 8 o'clock. And as usual, I suppose, most of the dads will be treating their kids to the once-a-year spectacle. Not that the kids initiated the action. In most cases taking sonny along gives Pop a chance to vicariously fly to the most remote corners of the earth to bag rare big game trophies or struggle through the landing of enormous fish.

This year's offering is two full-length films made by Major Bill Bryant of the U.S. Air Force, who, for 21 years piloted fighting aircraft in all parts of the world, but has recently turned his flying abilities to searching out the world's best hunting and fishing territories. It's Alaska and Africa this year. Panama and the fabulous Zane Gray reef. But whether its North America, South America or Africa the action is fast and furious. The two feature films, "Fly in Fishing" and "Rhodesia Safari" measure up to any of the previous Taber shows, according to Lyle Snavley, show chairman.

As of Monday afternoon, tickets were still available at Finley's Sport Shop, B & B Smoke Shop, United News and Tobacco, and Holmes Gulf Station on the East Side.

Fox Hunting

Last week was a big week for me—that is I was getting around quite a lot and running into some really interesting meetings and get-togethers. But the payoff came Sunday when I slipped up to the Sugar Grove area and spent some time with a group of fox hunters who were actively engaged at giving the "hounds" a run for their money.

Some thirty-five enthusiastic gunners and an accumulation of hounds that must have numbered about twenty-five engaged themselves throughout the day.

It wasn't an ideal day for the sport—the wind was blowing and it was hard to hear the hounds at a distance, and for some reason unknown the dogs seemed to have a little trouble holding a trail—but it was an ideal sport for the day. Three foxes were bagged, one in the morning and two in the afternoon, an enjoyable meal was served the crew at the Checkered Apron restaurant at mid-day, and a number of the hunters admitted to having had shots with no fox to show for the powder they burned.

In the course of the experience, I happened to be in on what must have been some of the fastest action of the day. It was at the start of the afternoon session and the crew had split up. I followed Red Burgett's truck to where he and a half-dozen others wanted to cover a Christmas tree thicket and a gully that drained off in the direction the other hunters would be working.

As they unloaded the dogs it occurred to me that it averaged out at about one hound to each gunner. And as the hunters climbed the bank and the pack of hounds cavorted wildly about them I felt a touch of nostalgia, remembering those days when I had started off with the same purpose in mind and hounds-memorable hounds that I shall never forget-trotted at my side. And as the hunters vanished in the pine growth, I felt a strong urge to follow.

Only minutes passed before the bugle-like bay of a hound swelled through the woodlands. A moment of complete silence, then a whole chorus of bays blended in the kind of music that makes a fox hunter's heart skip more than a beat or two. The track was hot. With the crack of a rifle, the baying stopped. In a few minutes we learned that the shot had been a miss.

But we didn't have long to wait. The hounds were soon back on the track and "singing" in the best of voice. When another hunter missed his shot, the hounds moved further afield.

As I stood there listening to hounds, the shooting, and the cheerful banter passed back and forth between the gunners I couldn't help but wonder just what it is that attracts most hunters to deer hunting. Compared to fox hunting—well, there just isn't any comparison.

Fishing Derby

Sunday I got up to Chapman Dam and the fishing derby that was being staged by the Warren Field and Stream Club. It was a gala affair and the person who missed this chance to have a day in the great outdoors has my sympathies.

Well over a thousand persons participated, some of them fished (maybe as many as 400), some rode the skidoos, some skated, and a heck of a lot of them ate hamburgers and hot dogs. The famed Fox Hole Inn was sold out of everything early in the afternoon.

Anyhow, the kids were having the most fun and if for no other reason the affair should become an annual one. The enthusiastic outdoorsists of the community owe this much to our future citizens.

It's just too bad the Warren Field and Stream Club can't get more of its members out to help on projects of this kind. As usual, a handful of men were shouldering the load.

UCLA WAY OUT IN FRONT

Louisville Falls in Poll Tarheels, Houston Rise

By BEN OLAN
Associated Press Sports Writer
The unbeaten UCLA Bruins are unanimous choices for the top spot in The Associated Press' major college basketball poll for the second straight week. North Carolina is the new runner-up while Western Kentucky and Vanderbilt moved in among the Top Ten teams.

The Bruins collected all 39 first-place votes in the balloting by a national panel of sports writers and broadcasters. North Carolina advanced from fourth place in taking over the No. 2 spot from Louisville. Houston held third place and Louisville fell to fourth. Princeton remained in the fifth position.

UCLA, 14-0, downed Portland 122-57 and the University of California at Santa Barbara 119-75 last week. North Carolina, Houston and Princeton were idle. Louisville defeated Dayton 66-50 but then dropped its second game of the season, 59-58 to Cincinnati.

Frank Robinson Named Comeback Player of Year

By MIKE RECHT
Associated Press Sports Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — Frank Robinson, who rebounded from the surprising trade that sent him from Cincinnati to Baltimore and led the Orioles to the American League pennant and World Series championship, was named comeback of the year yesterday.

Robinson drew an overpowering 194 first-place votes and 685 points in the Associated Press poll conducted among sports writers and sportscasters throughout the nation. Points were awarded on the basis of three for first place, two for second and one for third.

Golfer Arnold Palmer was second with 38 first-place votes and 351 points while auto racer John Surtees was third with 149 points, including eight top votes.

Robinson, who fell out of favor after a personality clash with former owner Bill DeWitt of Cincinnati in the National League, quickly stepped into the American League spotlight by winning the batting triple crown.

The slugging outfielder, who has signed for a reported $100,000 for 1967, hit .316 with 49 home runs and 122 runs batted in. He then was named the league's Most Valuable Player, the Associated Press Male Athlete of the year, and the S. Rae Hickok Professional Athlete of the Year award.

He also was named the outstanding performer in Baltimore's World Series sweep over Los Angeles as his homer started the Orioles to victory in the first game and another clout provided the only run in the fourth and final contest.

He hit .296 with 33 homers and 113 runs batted in for Cincinnati in 1965.

Palmer, golf's biggest money winner and one of its greatest attractions, won more money in 1966 than any golfer in history. He pocketed $154,692, beating Jack Nicklaus by $346.

Palmer, who dominated the PGA tour in the early 1960s and then went two years without winning a major tournament, took home $80,000 in 1965.

Surtees was the world champion of racing in 1964 but was critically injured when his sports car crashed during a practice run in 1965. He returned in 1966 to win the Stardust Grand Prix in Las Vegas, Nev.; the St. Jovite Grand Prix, and the Los Angeles Times Grand Prix to claim the Canadian-American Challenge Cup.

The rest of the top ten vote getters were Phil Regan of the Los Angeles Dodgers, Dick Bass of the Los Angeles Rams, lightweight boxing champion Dick Tiger; Boog Powell of Baltimore; golfer Billy Casper; the Dallas Cowboys and the Orioles.

First NASA Apollo Mission Will Be After February 21

WASHINGTON (AP) — The National Aeronautics and Space Administration officially scheduled yesterday its first manned Apollo orbital mission for a launching no earlier than Feb. 21.

This will be a preliminary to the planned landing on the moon, projected within the next three years.

The three-man crew will be launched between 10 a.m. and 3:30 p.m. G.E.T. into an orbit 101 to 153 miles above the earth.

The flight is "open ended" — that is, of an indeterminate length. It will go satisfactorily if it may equal in length the 14-day Gemini 7 mission of Astronauts Frank Borman and James A. Lovell Jr., in December, 1965, the longest manned space flight yet achieved.

The crew for the first American three-man space journey will be commanded by Virgil I. Grissom, 40, who made a sub-orbital flight in a Mercury spacecraft July 21, 1961, and commanded the first Gemini mission, a three-orbit flight with Astronaut John Young March 23, 1965.

Grissom's crew will consist of Edward H. White II, 37, first American to walk in space — he flew with James A. McDivitt in Gemini 4, in June 1965 — and Roger B. Chaffee, 31, a newcomer to space flight.

Waiting in reserve, should they be needed, will be the backup crew consisting of Walter M. Schirra Jr., 44, veteran of the six-orbit Mercury 8 flight Oct. 3, 1962, and the one-day Gemini 6 mission Dec. 15-16, 1965, Donn F. Eisele, 39, and Walter Cunningham, 34.

NASA said the purpose of the first Apollo astronaut mission is to check out the manned operation and performance of the spacecraft, ground tracking and control facilities.

Most of these checks can be completed if necessary during the first five hours of the flight, NASA said.

The crew is to accomplish eight "burns" or in-space ignitions of the 21,000-pound-thrust engine that represents the

Nicaraguan Rebels Seize Hotel Guests as Hostages

MANAGUA, Nicaragua (AP) — After a night of rioting, political foes of the Somoza machine barricaded themselves inside the Gran Hotel yesterday and seized 20 North American guests as hostages, the government reported.

Two tanks that had opened up at the hotel earlier withheld their fire while negotiations went on between the opposition and the government through an intermediary. Troops surrounded the hotel, which covers a city block.

A U.S. Embassy employee was allowed to pass through the barricade of beds and mattresses placed in the main hotel entrance. He reported that all the Americans are well. He said they are tourists and businessmen.

Gunfire swept the streets most of the night and into the morning. Red Cross units reported picking up 12 bodies and more than 30 wounded. The government said three soldiers were among the dead and 13 were wounded.

The trouble began Sunday night at a political rally conducted by Fernando Agüero, the Conservative party candidate who opposes Gen. Anastasio Somoza Jr., an heir to Latin America's oldest political dynasty. Somoza is a presidential candidate of the ruling Nationalist Liberal party.

Agüero called for a general strike to "demand electoral guarantees" for the voting Feb. 5. After the rally, street fighting broke out between Agüero's supporters and guardsmen.

Agüero and his party's coordinator, Pedro Joaquín Chamorro, took refuge in the hotel along with what one source said were about 50 followers.

Early in the day, troops called on the rebels in the hotel to give up, guaranteeing they would get fair treatment. The government said Agüero would be guaranteed safety to talk with President Lorenzo Guerrero, it added that Agüero had rejected the offer.

Baker Admits Disobeying Johnson Decree in 1960

By MARTHA COLE
WASHINGTON (AP) — Bobby Baker testified yesterday he was "reprimanded and cautioned" by then Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson in 1960 not to practice law while in his government position.

"I was in essence moonlighting or sunshining, whatever you call it," Baker told a U.S. District Court jury. He added "I was doing it contrary to instructions" from Johnson.

Baker then was secretary to the Senate Democratic majority and Johnson, now President, was a Democratic senator from Texas and majority leader of the Senate. Baker did not use Johnson's name, saying only "The majority leader in 1960."

On the stand for the third day in his trial on charges of income tax evasion, fraud and conspiracy, Baker told of arrangements to associate himself with another man, a member of the District of Columbia bar, "in my transactions."

The government's charges involve the alleged payment of fees by various firms to Baker through checks made to Wayne L. Bromley, a former close friend and associate of Baker.

The government charges also that Baker kept about $80,000 of some $100,000 raised by California savings and loan executives for political campaigns in 1962.

Baker testified last week that he transferred the money, in cash in brown manila envelopes, to the late Sen. Robert S. Kerr, D-Okla., on three separate occasions.

The arrangement with Bromley involved some $24,500 in fees paid by five firms in 1963-64. The checks were sent to Bromley, a member of the District of Columbia bar. Baker said he was not licensed to practice in the district and "I always associated myself with a member of the district bar in my transactions."

Also, Baker said at another point he was not supposed to practice law while he was in government service, adding that, "My boss, the majority leader, had severely admonished me," not to do so.

Vietnam War Stalling U.S. - U.S.S.R. Relations

By JOHN WEYLAND
MOSCOW (AP) — President Nikolai V. Podgorny told the new U.S. ambassador, Llewellyn E. Thompson, yesterday that Vietnam stands in the way of improving U.S.-Soviet relations.

It was Thompson's first meeting with the Soviet leader since his arrival here Jan. 11. He presented his credentials as successor to Foy D. Kohler, who returned to Washington to become the No. 4 man in the State Department.

The new ambassador said President Johnson had instructed him to tell the Soviet president that Johnson is ready to cooperate on problems facing the two nations.

"It depends upon the policy of the United States whether this proves possible," Podgorny replied.

The Soviet president accused the United States of causing a "serious deterioration of the international situation" with its involvement in Vietnam.

Thompson, 61, served as ambassador in Moscow from 1957 to 1962. His reappointment has been widely regarded as an attempt by Johnson to start a thaw in U.S.-Soviet relations chilled by Vietnam.

The U.S. ambassador did not mention Vietnam in his speech at the Kremlin ceremony but made an offer of cooperation with the Soviet Union in solving some urgent world problems.

An American spokesman said Podgorny and Thompson had a "substantive" exchange after the credentials presentation during an hour-long meeting. But details, such as whether Vietnam was discussed, were not disclosed.

Thompson did not give Podgorny the message he brought here from President Johnson. This indicated it is meant for Premier Alexei N. Kosygin, who is expected to receive the ambassador later.

Erie Man Gets Life Sentence For Murder

ERIE—Vernon Carl Marsh was formally sentenced yesterday to life imprisonment for the February, 1965, murder of Bruno Roehrl.

Marsh, flanked by defense attorneys Richard V. Scarpitti and Herbert J. Johnson Jr., stood composed as presiding Judge Thomas W. Barber pronounced sentence.

A three-judge panel of Barber, Edward H. Carney and Elmer L. Evans found Marsh guilty of first degree murder on Jan. 12.

Defense attorneys at that time indicated they planned no appeal in the case.

Following imposition of sentence, Judge Barber permitted Marsh 15 minutes with his wife and his mother, Mrs. Mildred White.

Marsh was to be transferred to the Western Pennsylvania Diagnostic and Classification Center in Pittsburgh today. Following testing, the Pennsylvania Bureau of Prisons will then decide in what institution Marsh will be placed for the rest of his natural life.

Marsh could ask for commutation of sentence anytime but normal procedure is to wait at least eight years before appealing to the Pardons Board.

Explorer Scout Training Session Set for Tomorrow

A training session for Explorer advisors will be held at 7:30 p.m. tomorrow at the new headquarters of Chief Cornplanter Council, Boy Scouts of America, at 256 Pennsylvania ave. West.

This is the first in a series of three training programs. It will deal with the history of the creation of the Explorer program for young men 14 to 18. About 10 years ago an in depth study was made by a University of Michigan team under a grant from the National Council Boy Scouts of America concerning the interests of this age group, and what type of programs and activities meet their needs and desires. This formed the basis for the Explorer program.

The training also covers organization and administration of Explorer Posts, its democratic nature, and its potentials.

Two Women Hurt, Delay In Aid Cited

Two Clarendon women suffered minor injuries in an early morning traffic mishap yesterday on Pennsylvania ave.

Borough police officer Edward E. Peterson, who investigated, said that a car driven by Stasha Blum, 60, of Clarendon, traveling east, struck a parked car owned by Kenneth E. Kerner, 904 Pennsylvania ave. E., when the operator was blinded by oncoming car lights.

The impact, police said, pushed the Kerner vehicle into a second parked car owned by Gust Gilmore, RD 2, Susquehanna Apts., Darlington, Md. Peterson said the accident occurred at 3:15 a.m. and that the Blum woman and Cheryl Lynn Crossley, 20, also of Clarendon were taken immediately to Warren General Hospital.

According to police, the injured women were not admitted to the hospital until 4:25 a.m. and were not examined by a doctor. Peterson reported that the nurse on duty tried to get a doctor but they refused to come to the hospital.

One local physician, police stated, when called advised that the women be admitted and he would look at them later yesterday morning.

75 Miles Of Shortway On '67 Map

An additional 75 miles of the Keystone Shortway (Interstate Route 80) is expected to be ready for use by the end of 1967.

One hundred and fifty-six miles of the 313-mile superroad was open at the end of 1966.

However, the last 82 miles to be done may take until 1970 to complete, due to water supply problems at White Deer and DuBois and late construction starts on all the 10 remaining sections.

In checking with highway department officials, the Keystone Shortway Association was assured that the two unfinished sections in Mercer County from the Ohio line east to West Middletown, totaling 6.3 miles, will be done next fall. Also, 25.93 miles in Clarion County, 22 in Clearfield County, and 21 miles in Centre County, stand an excellent chance of being open this year.

Warn Tots On Danger Of River Ice

Borough police have issued their annual warning about youngsters playing on the ice formed on both the Conewango Creek and Allegheny River.

Officers spent nearly one hour and a half Saturday rounding up ten offenders involved in three separate incidents—one on the Conewango at the Third st. bridge; another at the hospital boat landing, the scene of several drownings in the past and the third at the Warren Sand & Gravel, where the Allegheny waters are known to be extremely deep and treacherous.

Police said they had some uneasy moments Saturday when it was reported that three other youngsters were on the river ice at the railroad trestle at the foot of Oak st. but were unable to find the trio. This call came at the same time a mother phoned to report a missing child. Police said, however, the child was finally located and not involved in the ice incidents.

Columbus Man Probes UFO Near Home Friday

A Columbus man last Friday was attempting to track down physical evidence of an unidentified object which he and his family observed early in the morning near his Lottsville Rd. home.

Donald Engle, of RD 1, Columbus, reported he had gotten out of bed at 2 a.m. Friday and had looked out the window as he frequently does. He said he saw a brightly lighted object outlined against a hill some distance away and thought at first it was the moon, but then realized the moon was off in another direction.

He awoke his wife and then his son, James, and all three continued to observe the object, which, they said, looked like a glowing dish with a rounded top.

Engle said that after about 10 minutes viewing the object with the naked eye and with binoculars, his curiosity got the best of him and he and his son got dressed and jumped in their car to get a closer look.

As they did so, however, the object faded into the distance and disappeared.

STOLEN TRACTOR OVER EMBANKMENT

State Police Trooper John D. Barnes observes a 1966 Diamond tractor reported stolen in Jamestown, N. Y., about 7 p. m. Saturday. The tractor was found on Route 957, two miles west of Sugar Grove yesterday morning. The tractor, valued at $13,000, had gone over an embankment but no damage was listed. Police learned that an employee of the rig's owner had taken the tractor without permission and was not licensed to operate this type of equipment. The tractor was owned by Angelo Pariso, 314 W. 11th st., Jamestown. An employee of the firm is reported to have recognized the suspect and Jamestown police are continuing an investigation.

Local Forest Group Attends At Milwaukee

Four Allegheny National Forest officials participated last week in a professional training session at U.S. Forest Service Eastern Region headquarters in Milwaukee.

Jeffrey Hildebrand, of the administrative department; William Kerr Jr., landscape architect with the engineering department; Bob Matula, of the Blue Jay Boy Corps staff; and Byron Rhodes, of lands management.

The courses conducted from January 16 through 20, were a part of a continuing program of in-service training of the U.S. Forest Service.

This session was first of three scheduled. The second will be held in 1968 and the third in 1970.

The U.S. Forest Service reports in-service training programs have been most successful in keeping staff and personnel abreast of current policies, procedures, and projected programs and goals.

Unemployment Down

Initial claims for unemployment compensation for the week ending Jan. 13, decreased over the previous week by 6,091, according to Jack B. Brown, executive director for the State Bureau of Employment Security. Initial claims filed totaled 26,292, or 728 lower than the same period a year ago.

C. of C. Plans for Banquet

Gail E. Cobb, chairman of the Warren Area Chamber of Commerce annual banquet, has sent out invitations for the 1967 banquet scheduled for Monday, February 13, at 6:30 p. m. at Beatty Junior High School cafeteria.

Cobb announces that, in line with the precedent set by previous annual dinners of the Chamber with outstanding speakers, the committee feels fortunate to have engaged one of America's finest speakers, Dr. Carl Winters, on the lecture staff of General Motors Corporation.

Dr. Winters, who is well known for his yearly appearances on the programs at Chautauque Institution, has given keynote addresses for more than 800 state, national and international conventions on four continents in the past few years. He has a wide reputation for not only enlightening his audiences, but enlightening, instructing and inspiring his modern-day listeners.

Chamber members are welcome to bring their ladies and other guests. Cobb urges that checks be mailed not later than February 6, in view of the limited number of seats available at the Beatty cafeteria.

An open house in the form of a Coffee Hour at her home was held for relatives, neighbors and friends by three of her daughters, Mrs. Elmer Werlin, Mrs. R. J. Morell and Mrs. Evelyn Manning. The refreshments of homebaked pastries, birthday cake, appropriately decorated, and coffee were served buffet style. Arrangements of roses and chrysanthemums added to the festive air of the occasion. Mrs. Olson, who has spent all of her life in this area, with the exception of a few years in her early married life when her late husband's business — he was a contractor and builder — took them to New Jersey, has twenty-six grandchildren and nine great-grandchildren. Her parents were Charles and Therese Molander Cedergust, both natives of Sweden, who settled in Jamestown, moving to Warren when Edith (Mrs. Olson) was a very young child.

Answers Your Problems

DEAR READERS: Somewhere out there is a 15-year-old girl who is doing all the ironing for a family of eight. When she wrote recently I told her to quit beefing, that one thing was certain — when she got married she would know how to iron, which was more than I could say for most teenage girls.

I am changing my advice. The avalanche of mail from irate readers has persuaded me that I was wrong. Here's a sampling:

From Louisville: When was the last time you did all the ironing for eight people? Check with someone who has and you will reverse yourself. Your advice is usually solid, but this time you goofed.

From Eureka, Calif.: You gotta be kidding. My daughter is 15 and does her share of work in the house, but I certainly would not expect her to do ALL the ironing — and we are four, not eight.

From San Francisco: There are seven in our family and I do a washing every day. Our 15-year-old daughter irons the towels and sheets and her own blouses. I wouldn't ask her to do any more. I'm thankful I don't have to do her homework. Have you been inside a high school lately?

From Memphis: If there are eight in the family there must be other girls who are old enough to help with the ironing. Why should the 15-year-old be stuck with all of it? A girl of 11 can iron handkerchiefs and pillowcases and towels. Please change your advice.

The readers have proven once again that everybody knows better than anybody. I now take the position that a 15-year-old girl should do part of the ironing, but not all of it and I'm ready to take my punishment. (How about 10 lashes with the electric cord?)

DEAR ANN LANDERS: My mother-in-law is a wonderful woman. She has lived with an abusive, alcoholic husband for 30 years and raised a fine family in spite of her terrible problems.

Two years ago my father-in-law got so mean she couldn't take it any more so she left him and moved in with us. One month later the drunken bum showed up and he moved in, too. When I came home and found him here I took my husband aside and told him to get the guy out. His answer was, "He is my father. I can't."

Now, Ann Landers, OUR marriage is in danger. The fighting and flying crockery have made my husband a nervous wreck. Last night he said, "If you don't get them out of this house I am leaving."

They are his parents, Ann. Isn't it up to him to tell them to go? I also worry about what will happen to my mother-in-law if we throw them out. Please give me some advice and fast. — SMACK DAB IN THE MIDDLE

DEAR DAB: It's your husband's place to invite his parents to continue the Thirty Year War elsewhere, but obviously he is not equal to the task so you'll have to help him.

A few weeks after they leave, when your father-in-law has re-arranged your mother-in-law's bridgework for the 50th time, she'll be back. Welcome her. But don't let the old man move in again or you'll have a re-run of the nightmare you've lived with for the past two years.

Confidential to If You Were in My Shoes: I would throw them out and buy another pair. And if you can't afford another pair right now, throw them out anyway and go bare-footed. You'll be more comfortable and you'll look better, too.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

English Librarian Talks About Books and Children

The first meeting of the new year for Seneca Parent Teachers featured guest speaker, Miss Margaret Sullivan, visiting children's librarian on the Cultural Exchange Program from Stevenage, England. Her talk had for its theme the introduction of children to books at an early age, fostering their interest through childhood. A question and answer period followed.

Mr. Bob Winters presided at the meeting at which the attendance award was won by Mrs. Ellen Peterson's First Grade. Mrs. Kay Lafferty presented the speaker, Miss Sullivan.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. James Hill, chairman and a committee comprised of Mrs. Bruce Duell, Mrs. Ross Hawks, Mrs. Anthony Hahn and Mrs. Charles Andersen.

Canned garbanzos (chick peas) are convenient to serve as a salad. Drain the beans, let them stand in a spicy marinade made with oil and vinegar and serve them on lettuce.

Some Of the Fashions That Created News Abroad And Here

Last week, the eyes of the fashion world were turned to Rome and the news that came out, for the most part gave hope that woman could be beautiful again! Certainly the signs of alluring femininity can be clearly glimpsed in the photo above left. Two of Venezia's evening gowns shown in the Eternal City for the coming spring and summer seasons were brilliant with bead-work. The gown to the left has elaborately worked tiers of hand-sewn head embroidery, while the typical Venezia gown at right is ornamented with beaded rosettes of paillettes.

The coat in the picture directly left, was seen in Florence, Italy in the 1967 Spring and Summer collection of Rome's Centinato. Of checked white and red wool, the coat is worn over a red wool dress with large flaps. The picture was taken against the background of the Church of Santa Croce in the city that claims Michaelangelo as its own.

In picture directly above, the much talked of chain pattern is the dominant feature of this gown by Valentino. The pattern is in black and white. (Ed. Note: This I don't care for, but it was so talked about that I thought you might like to see it.)

The two suit ensembles, to the right above, are purely American in design, done by the master Norman Norell. They were seen in the New York fashion shows held the week before. Both fashions are reminiscent of naval officers', one having a double breasted four button closing, and the other closed low with a single button.

Directly right is an example of the paper dresses which made their hit with women and are now being abbreviated for the younger set. It all started with the Scott Paper Company last year offering a paper dress for $1, and 25 cents handling charges! Now six American companies are making the garments. Caution: Paper garments are not to be laundered or dry-cleaned as are garments of textile fabrics. They are flame-proofed and the fire-retardant finish would no longer be effective. (UPI Photos)

Hints From Heloise

Baby's Bottle

DEAR HELOISE: To keep a baby's bottle warm for quite a while, cut a hole the size of the bottle in an aluminum foil pie plate, and fit it down over the bottle which has already been heated in a pan of water.

Cover the top of the pan with the pie tin so the bottle is sticking up through the hole.

The aluminum plate keeps the water hot and the bottle from cooling too quickly.

M. F. Goodman

DEAR HELOISE: We have two small children and the polish on their shoes was always rubbing off on the upholstery of the car because their little legs are too short to hang over the edge of the seat. I thought of slipping a pair of clean, old socks over their shoes after they get into the car.

Now the upholstery and their shoes stay clean no matter how much they squirm around in the car.

Beth

DEAR BETH: Your old nylon stockings are excellent for this. They slip over children's shoes beautifully and can be kept in the glove compartment.

Heloise

DEAR HELOISE: For a perfect-fitting garment, I always baste it together before sewing it on the machine, but leave openings about one-half inch on each side of connecting seams or where there are darts and tucks.

By basting first, adjustments may be easily made. Darts and tucks can be taken in or let out so the dress or blouse will fit perfectly.

Anne

DEAR HELOISE: A shoe sales-man gave me the following tips on buying shoes.

It is better to shop for shoes late in the day because feet spread as the day goes on, especially during hot weather. Shoes bought early in the morning may be real "pinchers" after you have been on your feet several hours.

Also, one foot is often slightly larger than the other so it is wise to buy your shoes to fit the larger foot. Then, buy a pair of inner soles and insert one in the shoes for the smaller foot.

Irene

Regarding the second tip ... A friend of mine broke a toe several years ago and when it healed, that foot was slightly larger than the other ... so she used the "inner-sole-in-one-shoe" method.

Last year she broke a toe on the OTHER foot, so her feet are the same size again! Of course, that's a rather drastic way to keep from buying inner soles!

Vows Exchanged In Trinity Memorial Episcopal

Paula Kay Burgess, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Burgess of 1409 Pennsylvania ave. E., became the bride of Richard Madison Burt, recently in a nuptial service at Trinity Memorial Church. The Rev. Richard H. Baker, rector, read the wedding rites in the presence of fifty guests.

Traditional wedding music was provided at the organ by Carl E. Stout. Altar decorations included arrangements of white mums, white pompons, and lighted tapers.

Approaching the altar on the arm of her father, the bride wore a slim floor length gown styled in a Directors silhouette with delicate lace forming the molded bodice fashioned with portrait neckline, high rise Empire waistline and long sleeves tapering to wedding points at the wrists. Bands of the lace encircled the hemline of the gown and edged the panel train which swept in graceful folds from the shoulders. Her bouffant veil of imported silk illusion was caught to a sweet heart headpiece of pearlized orange blossoms and she carried a cascade of white rosebuds and ivy.

The maid of honor, Miss Charmaine Schultz, wore wine velvet with touches of satin, with a matching velvet headpiece of floral leaves securing a butterfly veil. In gowns similar to that of the honor attendant, but in jade green, were the bridesmaids, Mrs. Roger Quiggle and Mrs. Terrence Brant. All carried cascades of pink rosebuds.

The best man was Terrence Brant, and ushers were Zigmunt Bystron and Alvin Whipple.

The mother of the bride chose a three-piece mint green knit suit with matching accessories and a corsage of orchids. The grandmother of the bride, Mrs. Thomas King of Bradford, had a corsage of pink carnations.

A reception after the wedding was held at Mineral Well Restaurant where the uncle and aunt of the bride, Mr. and Mrs. Victor Janowicz of Bradford, acted as master and mistress of ceremonies. Aides were Mrs. Roger Burgess, aunt of the bride from Laceyville, Miss Pauline Condit, Miss Susan Janowicz of Bradford, Miss Robin Janowicz of Bradford who managed the guest book.

For traveling on a wedding trip to Texas, the new Mrs. Burt wore a beige corduroy and swede trimmed suit with matching suede accessories. The newlyweds will reside at 333 Greenwood ave., Apt. 2, Clarksville, Tennessee.

The bride is a 1965 graduate of Warren Area High School. Since graduation she has been on the staff of the Warren County Library Association. The groom, returned from Vietnam in June, is stationed with H.H.C. 2/506th Abn. Inf. at Fort Campbell, Kentucky, and holds the rank of Sergeant.

The rehearsal dinner was given by Mr. and Mrs. Victor Janowicz of Bradford, and pre-nuptial parties were given by Mrs. Roger Quiggle, Mrs. Terrence Brant, Miss Charmaine Schultz.

Guests from out of town came from Laceyville, Albion, Bradford and Derrick City, Penna., also Williamsburg, N. Y.

 North reasoned that his holding in today's hand did not quite warrant making two constructive bids, so he chose to raise his partner to two hearts directly rather than respond with one spade.

South was not far removed from a demand opening and his thoughts turned to slam. His three diamond rebid is a one round force, inasmuch as hearts is the agreed suit. When North showed a feature by bidding three spades, South decided that the hands fit well and he proceeded without further ado to six hearts.

West opened the ace of clubs which declarer ruffed. The ace of diamonds was cashed and a small diamond trumped in dummy. A spade was returned on which East began a high-low signal by playing the nine. South put up the queen and West made a fine play by ducking. Observe that, if he takes the ace, declarer has 12 tricks—for he can discard his remaining diamond losers on North's long spades after the trumps are drawn.

When the queen of spades held the trick, South ruffed another diamond as West showed out—discarding a club. Declarer was in a precarious position, he could not afford to lead another spade, for West could give his partner a ruff. With the diamonds failing to divide favorably, South must find a parking place for the jack of diamonds.

The queen of clubs was led from dummy and East covered with the king—it would have made no difference if he had ducked—and South trumped with the eight of hearts. Three rounds of trumps cleared that suit. The king of diamonds was cashed and the seven of clubs was discarded from dummy. The ten of spades dislodged West's ace and North's hand was high—consisting of the established jack of clubs and good spades.

A trump opening originally by West would have complicated declarer's task. In order to land 12 tricks, he must take a first round finesse of the jack of diamonds inasmuch as North has only two trumps left for ruffing purposes. Without the benefit of a peek at the adverse holdings, South is apt to fall short of his goal.

MEADVILLE — Raymond Crosley of 151 Walnut st., reportedly escaped serious injury in a one-car accident Sunday at about 1:40 a.m. on Rte. 77 at Riceville Corners.

Bloomfield Township police officer Lee Hodgins said the convertible Crosley was driving, traveling at an "excessive rate" of speed, struck a traffic control island at the intersection of Rte. 77 and Rte. 8, rolled over several times, then struck a utility pole. Hodgins said Crosley, alone in the car, was thrown to the pavement and that the car was damaged extensively.

Crosley received abrasions and was shaken up badly, but appeared to have escaped serious injury, Hodgins said.

Your Horoscope

By Frances Drake

Look in the section in which your birthday comes and find what your outlook is, according to the stars, FOR TUESDAY, JANUARY 24, 1967

ARIES (March 21 to April 20) — Neatness counts, in all areas. Technicians, artists, students, teachers and all who give solid attention to their obligations will get ahead with fewer obstacles.

TAURUS (April 21 to May 21) — If careless in the minor items, you may have to retrace steps and surely will waste a lot of good time. Check your brakes on emotions and commitments as well as on implements.

GEMINI (May 22 to June 21) — Judiciously probe things (for clarification) that puzzle. Tackle first the present issues. A review of expenditures in relation to revenues is relevant. Put all in right perspective.

CANCER (June 22 to July 23) — As pressures ease through accomplishment, you should more directly spur your efforts to satisfaction in most areas, especially in charity, organization, home and personal contacts.

LEO (July 24 to August 23) — Carry on in your usually unpretentious and capable (though still with feeling) manner. The agitated or over-effusive person will be frowned upon.

VIRGO (August 24 to September 23) — Keep romance, socials and recreation in their place if you would not have the picture cluttered. Basics and introductory measures ask due attention. Ahead with illuminating facts!

LIBRA (September 24 to October 23) — If you have lost your way in any area, stop to reconsider and repair and do whatever you need to make true inquiry and recommendations. Remedy tardiness.

SCORPIO (October 24 to November 23) — Some arbitration needed. Competence and general efficiency up front! Don't ignore the small factors, whether involving you or not. You can be simple and learned at the same time.

SAGITTARIUS (November 23 to December 21) — You can always start anew where you made a mistake before and be better for the new beginning. Seek whatever special education you can to uplift, energize, and be substantial.

CAPRICORN (December 22 to January 20) — Good-fellowship and personal safeguards are not one-shot attempts. They are with us daily and call for responsibility AND good humor. Consider opposite opinions to learn all sides of any matter.

AQUARIUS (January 21 to February 19) — Short-cuts to success (the kind you want) are rare and success seldom lasts long when achieved that way. Some expansion you may not think wise, but it has a full meaning nonetheless.

PISCES (February 20 to March 20) — Inspired thinking and acting, and truly literate directions of the mind will gain new sponsorship. Have the reserve of knowledge and experience.

YOU BORN TODAY: More quietly determined than you may seem, and for this reason you gain know-how and make an impression where some may not realize it—even you may not. You like happy thoughts, pleasantries. Usually have many friends. You are both theoretical and practical, find a way "through thick and thin!" At times this sector comes up with some pretty "radical" ideas that are years ahead of their time—are later accepted as routine. Watch out for sudden attractions that ARE unwise and could get you into problems you don't want. You can be elastic in thought, so mind which way you go. Be careful in diet. Birthdate: Charles Fox, British statesman, many engineers, technicians.

How to Keep Well

By Dr. T. R. Van Dellen

(c) 1967 By The Chicago Tribune

To the limit of space, questions pertaining to the prevention of disease will be answered. Personal replies will be made when return stamped envelope is inclosed. Telephone inquiries not accepted. Dr. Van Dellen will not make diagnoses or prescribe for individual diseases.

FOOD PHOBIA
 Some people have an idiosyncrasy to fat. Eating greasy fried potatoes, too much butter, or the visible fat on meat causes nausea. The individuals are otherwise normal. Some intolerance to fried or fatty foods also is a symptom of gallbladder disease possibly because these edibles stimulate the organ to contract and expel its bile. The ensuing indigestion may cause so much discomfort that the victim soon learns to avoid greasy edibles.

Dr. D. Taggart and B. P. Billington of New South Wales pulled a trick on 12 individuals who claimed that food, fried or baked in fat, caused severe dyspepsia. The symptoms included nausea, vomiting, belching, and abdominal soreness or pain. The investigators found that butter fat or oxidized beef drippings could be disguised if incorporated into American-type muffins. Each test meal consisted of three of these biscuits.

Dyspeptic symptoms developed only 8 per cent of the times when the disguised fats were consumed. The investigators concluded that dyspepsia after ingestion of fatty foods was not caused by the fat, but to prejudice about fat, or to domestic or personal disturbances at the time of eating.

The adage "Eat clams the year 'round and oysters only during the months containing an 'R'" applies only to our Atlantic coast shellfish. In California, from mid-May to November, clams and mussels take up a neurotoxin from eating plankton (animal and plant life of a body of water) which in turn concentrates in their livers. This does no harm to the shellfish but the poison may be lethal to man.

Dr. Van Dellen will answer questions on medical topics if stamped, self-addressed envelope accompanies request.

LUNG DISTURBANCE
 C. R. writes: What is the difference between emphysema and chronic fibrosis of the lungs?

REPLY
 In emphysema, the bronchi are narrowed and the air sacs are overdistended. In pulmonary fibrosis the framework of the lung is scarred and thickened. Both disturbances frequently coexist making it difficult to tell whether the shortness of breath and cough are produced by one or both conditions.

ULCER DIET ADDS WEIGHT
 Mrs. H. A. writes: My husband's ulcer diet keeps him overweight. Should he try eating less?

REPLY
 This problem confronts many ulcer patients and is difficult to overcome. Normal weight can be maintained by eating six smaller meals a day. He ought to try more skim milk and gelatin dishes and rely more upon antacids than on food to bring relief of discomfort.

Lander Scouts Enjoyed Hike, Club Meeting

By MRS. H. F. LIGHT
The Lander Boy Scout Troop No. 26 held a Pioneer Camp-out at Fairbanks Creek last weekend with 18 boys and Scoutmaster Larry Larson attending. The boys erected their own lean-tos and were shown how to build their own fires. A three mile hike took place on Saturday afternoon and a class in tenting was held which consisted in showing the proper way to handle an axe, etc. The Troop returned home on Sunday.
The Troop held their regular meeting last Monday night and the awards presentation that was to have taken place was postponed until Monday, January 23.

The Lander Sunshine Club met last Thursday at the home of Mrs. Charles Swanson with Mrs. Pearl Brown assisting her. There were 12 members and three children present. A luncheon was served by the hostesses and a short business meeting was held. The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Homer Lindell with Mrs. Harry Nelson as hostess.

Mr. and Mrs. Homer Lindell and Mr. and Mrs. Harry Ludwick attended the Pennsylvania Farm Show at Harrisburg recently. Mr. and Mrs. Ludwick visited their daughter and family at Warminster before returning home.

Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Falconer of Erie spent last weekend at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Stuart Falconer.

Two Fires Destroy Farm Home

MEADVILLE—Two fires over the weekend at the Isalah Rickard house, RD 1, Guys Mills, destroyed the dwelling valued by its owner at $12,000 to $13,000, an official of the Randolph Volunteer Fire Department reported.

A Townville VFD member, James E. Harrington, suffered a bruise on the leg while riding a truck to the scene. He was treated at Spencer Hospital and released.

The first call took the Randolph VFD to the scene at 1 p.m. Saturday, where the roof of the Rickard home was found ablaze. Townville was called and the two departments spent some time at the scene. The fire was confined to the roof and attic but the upper part of the house was badly damaged, the loss being estimated at about $7,000.

Another call was received early Sunday morning, when Randolph responded and summoned both Townville and Blooming Valley departments. The house was enveloped in flames and the fire had gained too great headway to check. The house was destroyed. It is believed that insulation in the attic must have been burning underneath and rekindled the fire.

Officer Honored

MEADVILLE—U.S. Air Force Capt. Paul J. Shall Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul J. Shall, Williamson Road, has been decorated with the Air Force Commendation Medal. The presentation was made at Wright-Patterson AFB, Ohio, where he is a student at the Air Force Institute of Technology.

Ambler, Former Road Engineer Here, Retiring

J. Paul Ambler, who was with the U.S. Corps of Engineers engaged in road work in the Kinzua area in the late '30s, will retire as district engineer of the State Highway Department at Pittsburgh Feb. 15.

Ambler, a veteran of 35 years of service, recalls after being fired by Governor George H. Earle when the Democrats took over the State administration in 1935, he took a position with the Corps of Engineers, which brought him to Kinzua.

"I was asked to attend the dedication of the Allegheny River Dam at Kinzua last fall, since that was one of the projects I worked on," he said.

"And I had to laugh, because here it was 30 years later, and they were just getting around to the dedication," he added.

But he used the point to emphasize that highways—like major dam projects, don't happen overnight.

Ambler will be succeeded at Pittsburgh by William Stephens, 62, who has been deputy Pittsburgh district engineer, Stephens, with the highways department more than 30 years, previously was district engineer in the department's Indiana office. He is a native of Dilltown.

Seek Interchange

GROVE CITY—A movement to get a new interchange to give the Grove City area traffic a connection with Interstate 80, the Keystone Shortway, will be aired at a public hearing Wednesday night. The proposed interchange would link Route 178, the Sandy Lake Highway, with the Shortway, a short distance north of here.

Entertain at WHS, Clarendon News

The Ave Marie Society of St. Clara's and St. Anthony's church sponsored their monthly birthday party for the Teenagers at the State Hospital Monday evening under the chairmanship of Mrs. Sam Pusateri. The program consisted of two band acts, an advanced number by Pam Laih, and a routine by Renee Laih. Nancy and Elaine Bennett of Warren performed a tap dance. The four girls are members of Candy Thompson's Dancing School and Candy Cane Twirling Corp. The highlight of the evening was the "5th Image", a group of young musicians, Bob Thompson on the organ, Rod Hultquist rhythm guitar, Danny Dahlgren, lead guitar, Steve West, bass guitar, and Denny Bullock on the drums. They provided the music for dancing while refreshments were served by Leona Rice, Mary Valone, Pat Hollingshead and Josephine Feldler. The society entertains once a month, honoring the teenagers who have birthdays that month. Rev. Mark Roueche attended the affair. Anyone desiring to attend is welcome.
